GE Offshore Marine Services, established in Equatorial Guinea, is a provider of offshore marine solutions to the global oil and gas industries.
GE Offshore aims to become one of the leading owners and operators of offshore support vessels in West Africa.

An ocean of opportunities
GE Offshore stands ready to tow and anchor mobile rigs, assist in offshore oil/gas terminals including LNG, transport crews and supplies, and perform a variety of specialized marine support services.

Sea under control
Our mission is to run the safest fleet, being fully committed to Health, Safety, Environment and Quality (HSEQ), and maintaining a medium to long term chartering profile focused on attaining the highest recognition and satisfaction from our international clients.

National Content
The Company mission is to create a permanent offshore service hub in Equatorial Guinea, building a versatile modern fleet, with qualified crews, offering outstanding cost-effective solutions with strong focus on national content.

GE Offshore National Content strategy is an important component of our business, and its elements are embedded into our daily processes, procedures and vessels. We view National Content as a critical partnership responsibility throughout the full lifecycle or our projects, and have a clearly defined and documented approach.
