Luba Freeport is a new deep water port and oilfield service logistics base on the west coast of the island of Bioko. Luba is a JV between GEPetrol and Luba Freeport Ltd.

The Benefits of Luba Freeport

Offers a unique possibility for a regional West African hub due to its tax-free status on transit cargo and ideal geographical location, along with valuable corporate tax concessions.
Provides modern world-class facilities for clients, including A.P.I. specification pipeyards.
Oil company audited procedures for HSE, Quality Assurance, Standard Operations, Key Performance Indicators.
Strong senior management team, with over 70 years combined experience in international port management, supply chain management, international shipping and oilfield logistics, in mature and frontier oil provinces.
Provides a sheltered deepwater environment for rig and vessel repair.
Meets EG national interests for a single location Oil Service Centre.
Provides job creation, skill transfer and training for EG Nationals and a major boost to the local and EG economy.

Regional Hub

Luba Freeport's unique tax and Customs duty exoneration makes it an ideal location for a regional West African hub facility. Materials imported into the Freeport can be stored and later exported to countries throughout the Gulf of Guinea without the payment of Transit Taxes and Customs duties.

This facility is already being used by SBM, MI, Nalco, Schlumberger, Baker Hughes and Amerada Hess to service their branches in neighbouring countries.
